Aesthetica is a British art and culture magazine.

Aesthetica Magazine covers photography, visual art, music, film and theatre. The magazine includes features on art, film, music and performance, highlighting notable new exhibitions around the world and showcasing photography.

The magazine's primary focus is on contemporary visual art and artists previously covered include Steve McQueen, Martin Creed, Henri Cartier-Bresson and Ernesto Neto.

Aesthetica devotes a number of its pages to photography and has featured essays from artists such as Richard Tuschman and Stephen Shore. Other articles have explored subjects such as European art and politics, the development of light art, and art in architecture.

Search the website for articles about all these topics.
